

This I Got to See
Her Name Is Strong
Initials in the News

Jack Lowe tells this as having taken place in his yard at the Providence (Ark.) hospital, to you: A white cat had been living for a long time on a long, long time — and the other day the cat had its chance.

The squirrel was busy digging up a nut. The cat inched down a row of shrubs, came to the open and grabbed the squirrel with a bear-hug. What followed was a blur of motion.

Apparently the cat missed its strike for the squirrel's neck, and Mr. Squirrel countered with a good deal of teeth.

They broke off the fight and ran in opposite directions. The squirrel went up a tree and barked his triumph.

So a squirrel whipped a cat, did it?

They say it was a big squirrel. But it wasn't a small cat.

But it was a surprised one.

UP quoted Mrs. Anna Louise Strong in saying that newspaper reporters and photographers in New York yesterday "mistreated" her worse than the Russians did when they threw her out.

This lady not only turns the other cheek — she leads with her chin.

From New Deal days we've inherited a disposition toward an alphabetized language.

DP's mean "displaced persons." Truman disposed of Drew Pearson with a third epithet which seems to be universally understood.

But now the railroads have a new abbreviation — DE. It stands for Displaced Engines — the old steam locomotives that are being junked as the diesel-electrics move in. Report is that the Pennsylvania Railroad alone scrapped 400 steam engines last year.

Mightful noise sounded by the Journal. It takes 89,000 man-hours to build a steam locomotive — but only eight hours to break it up.

GOPs Ready for Truman to Stump U. S.

Washington, Feb. 25 — (AP)—President Truman's notice that he may stump the country for his legislative program drew a "hop to it" response from Republicans today.

Mr. Truman, in the down-to-earth lingo he used successfully in last year's campaign, told enthusiastic Democrats at Jefferson-Jackson day dinners last night that Republicans are trying to "cripple" the people who have helped him to a "yellow book" issued by the government in the case.

The Republican president charged, want to destroy the farm price support program and force upon the government a "do nothing" policy which would let a depression economy "slide into a depression."

To this, most Republicans had one answer:

Let the president first find out how he stands with his own party; then let him appeal to the people.

Senator Brewster, majority chairman of the GOP senatorial campaign committee, said the president seems to forget that he has a Democratic Congress.

What's become of his majority in the house? he asked.

"The 81st Congress must be worse than he said the 80th was."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said it seems to him that the president recognizes that his own party doesn't agree with him.

Senator Taft said that if the Truman program has bogged down, as the president seemed to indicate, it is "because there is no united support on the Democratic side of the aisle."

Grand Jury to Question Ousted Writer

New York, Feb. 25. — (AP)—The federal grand jury investigating communism and espionage was called into special session today to hear testimony by Anna Louise Strong, pro-Communist American writer deported from Russia as a spy.

The 64-year-old Mrs. Strong was questioned intensively by the FBI yesterday upon her arrival from the Soviet Union by airplane.

She denied she ever took part in espionage or sabotage against the Soviet Union or "any other state" and declared she ran into trouble with Russian authorities because she was a "journalistic" activities as "spying."

The present grand jury, successor to the 18-month jury which indicted 12 American Communist leaders for conspiracy and brought perjury charges against Alger Hiss, has been meeting only three days a week. Today's special session makes the fourth day of hearings for them this week.

Mrs. Strong's whereabouts were kept a secret by the FBI previous to her appearance before the jury, although she apparently was free to come and go as she pleased.

The woman journalist, who founded a newspaper in Moscow in the early 1930's, was ordered to appear before the jury yesterday.

But the questioning by the FBI and a plea of fatigue put off her appearance until today.

'World Co-op' Plan of Truman Given to U. N.

Lake Success, Feb. 25 — (AP)—The United States laid before the United Nations today the broad outlines of President Truman's "bold new program" for long-range betterment of underprivileged areas of the world.

The first major policy statement here on the fourth point in Mr. Truman's inaugural address was given to the 18-nation economic and social council by assistant Secretary of State Willard L. Thorp.

There was no mention of how much money the United States might put up or how private capital would participate as proposed by Mr. Truman, but Thorp told the council:

In order to safeguard the cooperative nature of the enterprise and the international character of the organization sponsoring it, no one country should be expected to assume all or most of the financial burden of the expanded program.

In this connection observers recalled that the United States has contended it should pay no more than one-third of the annual U. N. budget but has agreed reluctantly to carry nearly 40 percent of the costs.

Thorp urged the council to take up a three-point program he said the United States would offer as a resolution. It proposes that:

1. The U. N. and its specialized agencies prepare a coordinated "concrete program" for consideration by the council at its summer session in Geneva.

2. "x x x" The report cover ways and means for arranging for financial expansion "to support projects undertaken on recommendation of the U. N. and agencies."

3. The report include recommendations for coordination of planning, execution and control.

University Bill Finally Gets Through

Little Rock, Feb. 25 — (AP)—The University of Arkansas appropriation bill, which has been passed through the Arkansas legislature in an anti-climatic finish late yesterday.

The bill, to make an annual allotment of $3,899,000 for the Fayetteville institution, was much debated in the house. It finally passed there a few days ago.

And yesterday the senate passed the measure without debate. The bill now goes to the governor.

The senate also passed a total of 12 appropriations measures amounting to more than $17,000,000 annually. Included were annual appropriations of $8,500,000 for county trunk fund and $3,000,000 for municipal turnback.

The three bills were defeated. The budget would have placed a tax on cigars, channeled cash funds of the state hospital into the state treasurer's office and set up a state board of photographic examiners.

Three other bills, all of them house measures, were passed. One fixes maximum value in petit larceny at $35 instead of the present $10; a second authorizes county judges to close highways to heavy trucks in emergencies; and the third is a substitute bill getting up procedure for paying municipal improvement district assessments.

Bills were introduced to:

Fix a new schedule of fees for travel tickets in the hope of raising an additional $9,000,000 annually.

Increase salaries of the highway director and the education commissioner to $7,500 each annually.

Permit group insurance for state officers and employees with the state bearing a portion of the cost.

Appropriate $907,900 in supplemental funds for the remainder of the current fiscal year for public school purposes; $1,210,601 supplemental for repairs to the state war memorial building here; $250,000 for construction of national guard armories; $750,000 for construction of new buildings at the Arkansas A. M. and N. college at Pine Bluff; $200,000 for completion of a new education department building on the capital grounds and $175,000 for its equipment.

Martin Joins KXAR Staff as Salesman

Hoyle Martin, 24, son of the late Lester P. Martin and Mrs. Martin of Prescott, has joined Radio Station KXAR as commercial salesman, L. B. Tooley, manager, announced today.

Mr. Martin's parents some years ago moved from Prescott to Tucson, Ariz., and he went to school at the University of Arizona there, maturing in speech, radio and dramatics.

He joined Radio Station KWRZ, Flagstaff, Ariz., in the Navajo Indian country, as commercial salesman. Mr. Martin said broadcasting in the Indian country was handicapped because of a shortage of announcers who could speak the Navajo tongue.

Mr. Martin is married, and Mrs. Martin will join him here shortly. He pronounces his first name "Hoyle."

Keep Pressure on Russia Says Wild Bil Donovan

Los Angeles, Feb. 25 — (AP)—Keep the pressure on Russia, say Major Gen. William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan and Bohus Benes.

"The Russians are holding us on a narrow front called the air lift," said Donovan. "We should pull them off on a larger front by denying them the use of all the great canals and harbors of the world."

"We need to be more aggressive," said Benes, nephew of the late Czech president. "When really pressed it's possible the Bolshevik leaders may be inclined to settle realistically for the limitation of communism to the Soviet union."

X x x

"If we are aggressive enough a bloody war might be evaded. On the other hand, the moment several people are shot the third world war will be on."

Or, as Gen. Donovan put it: "The cold war is no such thing — it's hot as hell."

Both the general and Benes were heard speaking engagements but gave their best shots to interviewers.

U. S. Income Tax Out as Exemption

Little Rock, Feb. 25 — (AP)—The last concession Arkansasans received from the state government for paying federal income taxes seemed on the way out today.

The house late yesterday voted 72-17 in favor of a bill to remove exemption of federal income taxes.

If the senate concurs, the measure is certain to be signed by Governor McMath because he proposed it as a means of increasing state revenue $2,500,000 annually.

Until two years ago Arkansasans received a 100 percent credit for payment of federal taxes in making their state income tax returns. The 1947 legislature reduced the credit to 50 percent.

Several opponents of the bill recalled last summer's gubernatorial campaign.

Said Rep. R. C. Wills of Arkansas county:

"A certain person said if he could get $28,000,000 to build roads and get some loopholes plugged, that would be all the money needed. Now we are asked to levy $13,000,000 additional taxes."

The house also passed a bill sponsored by the Arkansas Education association to create a $1,000,000 annual construction fund to aid school districts.

But it defeated a proposal which would have legalized bingo games.

A bill was introduced to provide fines of from $100 to $5,000 for illegal gambling on the house's election roll call machines. And a special committee said it would introduce tomorrow changes in the house rules to make more difficult the possibility of such votes being cast. The proposed changes are a ban on absent members in which members not present were erroneously shown as having voted.

Other bills were introduced to:

Give the state all money due on winning tickets but not collected by private horse races;

Regulate cockfights and transfer to the state police department all duties of the state mine inspector;

Tax oil and gas pipelines and give an automobile owners' financial responsibility law. (Previous similar measures have been unsuccessful in the present session.)

A comprehensive bill fixing salaries, expense allowances and number and salaries of deputies for assessors on a statewide basis also was offered. It is a substitute for a measure previously introduced and then withdrawn.

Jean Arthur and Hubby to Part After 16 Years

Santa Monica, Calif., Feb. 25 — (AP)—Jean Arthur's 16-year marriage, long regarded as one of Hollywood's most stable unions, is on the rocks.

The actress, now 48, has filed suit for divorce from Frank Ross, New York real estate man turned film producer, and hearing has been set for March 14. She managed to keep the suit secret more than two weeks by using her real name, Gladys Green Ross. She alleged cruelty, and he has filed denial.

Mrs. Arthur and Ross were married June 19, 1932, at Forest Hills, N. Y., and separated Jan. 3 this year. They have no children.

Russia Moves Troops to Norway Border

Helsinki, Finland, Feb. 25 — (AP)—Russia has moved additional troops to Norway's Arctic border, according to an authoritative Finnish source.

The informant said the troop movement was observed last week and apparently was in connection with Norway's stand on the proposed North Atlantic pact with the United States.

The source, who refused to permit use of his name, had no estimate of the number of troops, but said they had been moved close to Norway's 122-mile border from the Murmansk area.

Russia gained a common frontier with Norway in the peace settlement with Finland in which Finland ceded the Petsamo region to the Soviet Union.

The informant said there was no sign of similar troop movements to the Finnish border. Norway has a definite border with Finland in the north, also.

Last year Finland and Russia concluded a friendship and mutual assistance pact.

Russia first reminded Norway of their common frontier and warned her to stay out of the North Atlantic alliance, and then offered the Scandinavian country a non-aggression pact.

In reply Norway declared it was not her intention to grant any peace-time military bases to foreign power. Foreign Minister Halvard M. Lange this week declared his country pins its security on the North Atlantic alliance.

So far Norway has not replied to the Soviet demand for a non-aggression pact. But informed sources said have made it plain the offer will be rejected.

Recently Swedish sources in Stockholm expressed fears that Russia might strengthen her position on the Norwegian and Finnish borders as a counter-measure to the North Atlantic negotiations. The Swedish sources also mentioned the possibility that Russia might seek to move forces into Finland where they would be facing the Swedish border.

House Takes Steps to Halt Illegal Vote

Little Rock, Feb. 25 — (AP)—The Arkansas house today took steps to halt illegal voting in its sessions.

Several times this session the house roll call board has shown as voting on measures members who were absent from the chamber.

Three resolutions designed to tighten up voting rules were adopted this morning and the house made special order of business Monday a proposed bill to provide fines of from $100 to $5,000 for illegal voting on the electric roll call system.

One of the resolutions adopted this morning was aimed specifically at lobbyists. It requires that visitors to the house chamber must go directly to the seat of the member for whom they have business and retire to the rear of the chamber during a roll call.

Two other resolutions require that if the point of order is made that an absent member is recorded voting on the electric roll call machines an oral vote shall be taken and that the voting machine keys left at roll call stations by absent members shall be collected by the sergeant-at-arms.

The recommendations for rules changes were made by a committee composed of Reps. Nathan Norton, of St. Francis County, C. C. Hollenworth of Bradley and Morrell Catright of Jefferson.

The house again rejected an attempt to reduce the amount of liquor which may be possessed legally in dry counties. It defeated 44-20 a bill by Rep. T. A. Hulsey of Hempstead county to limit such possession to one quart.

Under present law possession of more than one gallon of liquor in a dry county is prima facie evidence of its possession for sale.

The bill was opposed by Rep. James A. Gipson of Saline county.

Sale of alcoholic beverages is illegal in Saline county.

"It disgusts me to have these boys from dry counties always doing something to dry to cut wet counties and we are getting just as much revenue as anybody," Gipson said. "If you want to do something why don't you introduce a bill to take all liquor revenue away from dry counties and I'll vote for it."

A few minutes later the house passed the bill by Rep. Paul Van Dalsen of Perry county to permit possession of not more than one case of beer in a dry county.

Oldtimers in Florida Fear the State Is Getting Too Much Like Los Angeles

By HAL BOYLE

Miami, Fla., — (AP)—America might just as well start considering whether it should secede from Florida.

If it doesn't it may end up with another Los Angeles in its borders. For that is what some natives here fear—and I use the word advisedly—that South Florida's gold coast is turning into. Yes, a second Los Angeles.

The whole area is still riding high in the saddle of the post-war boom. You have to know the mayor to get a hotel room. The beaches are so packed with bareback ladies seeking a tan that the sand is becoming pale and anemic. It isn't getting enough sunshine.

Hotels, apartment houses, stores and homes go up almost overnight. The community strung along the shoreline are thickening like a muscled arm. They are filling up with people—and people who have come to stay.

The way things are going now the whole 70-mile stretch from Palm Beach to Miami will be one continuous city," complained one resident. "In ten years the gold coast will be another Los Angeles."

Many natives don't enjoy that prospect at all. They like the tourist issue in the plus gold coast. They are some citizens for whom it is permitted to draw lush spenders. Others say that only 10 percent of the tourists are better, and that the plush gambling palaces scare away more visitors than they attract.

One unexpected development in the current anti-gambling drive: A wife sued her husband for divorce on the grounds he was a bookie, and another wife, seeking a partition of the way, charged her mate with juggling the family dough in bookie joints.

'Go to Church' Drive Launched in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Feb. 25 — (AP)—A nation-wide "go to church" advertising campaign is about to break.

The idea of churchgoing will be promoted on a nonsectarian basis through newspapers, magazines, radio, television, movies and billboards. A group of prominent laymen, led by its chairman, the religious word in a modern way.

"We see no reason why advertising can't be used to sell the word of God," says William Jeffers, railroad executive, who is honorary vice chairman of the campaign.

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Stanford University chancellor, is honorary chairman.

Other honorary vice chairmen include Gov. Beauford H. Jester, Texas; Congressman L. W. C. Thomas, Gene Tunney, Film Producer Walter Wanger, and President A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Churchill in Welcome to Unity Delegates

Brussels, Feb. 25 — (AP)—Winston Churchill welcomed German and Italian representatives today to cooperate with the free countries of western Europe in setting up continental unity.

Delegates from 21 European nations met at the first session of the international council of the movement for a United Europe.

The British wartime premier praised the conception of Europe rising above national and party differences.

"More than four years after the communique of the most terrible of wars has ended, it has already shown itself superior in many ways to the passions of hatred and revenge which naturally follow the terrible injuries we have inflicted upon one another," he said.

"Not only do we meet as Allies in a common struggle, but we welcome in our midst as friends and comrades representatives of the great states with whom we have been so lately locked in frightful conflict."

"This is indeed an example of the force of an idea triumphing over the fiercest passions of men and nations."

Churchill was applauded loudly as he entered the Palais des Academies with Belgian Premier Paul-Henri Spaak.

Churchill noted delegates from eastern European exile groups and asserted that once the iron curtain regimes of the Soviet bloc were removed, he said, "are at present held in the grip of a tyranny more permanently devastating than that of Hitler, and our ultimate purpose is their deliverance."

Churchill urged the delegates to carry on "another positive forward step towards a European unity."

The so-called European movement is a federation of independent groups in 12 European nations. It is working for a European federation of states based on the lines of the United States.

Its leaders include Churchill, Spaak, former president of the United Nations general assembly, Premier Alcide De Gasperi, Italian and Leon Blum, Socialist and former premier of France.

Taft Disputes Labor Law Is 'Insult'

Washington, Feb. 25 — (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today sharply disputed President Truman's assertion that the Taft-Hartley law is "an insult to the working men and women of this country."

Taft, co-author of the T-H measure, took issue with Mr. Truman as Senator Ellender (D-La.) predicted that any move to limit civil rights provision into the administration's labor bill will touch off a senate filibuster "for sure."

The president called the Taft-Hartley law an "insult" in his Jackson-Jefferson day speech last night. He said the workers will not rest until the law is "destroyed."

Taft told a reporter he has received "hundreds of letters from working people urging that Congress retain the Taft-Hartley act."

Mr. Truman's charge that "die-hard reactionaries" want to "cripple labor unions" prompted this reply by Taft:

"As a part of the same blitz which labor unions have tried to put over. Fortunately, the senate is considering the Taft-Hartley act on its merits."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) applauded Mr. Truman's claim of those who oppose Taft-Hartley repeal.

"Every word the president says has been confirmed in the senate labor committee hearings," Pepper said.

Ellender and a Dixie colleague, Republican Senator James H. Eastland of Mississippi, made every effort to add a civil rights provision to the administration bill would be to keep the Taft-Hartley law on the books.

Anti-American Book Ex-U. S. Employee Sold Out

Moscow, Feb. 25 — (AP)—The first edition of 10,000 copies of the book "The Truth About American Diplomats" has sold out quickly, although it has not even been mentioned in the Soviet press.

The book, published under the name of Amabelle Bucar, resigned U. S. embassy employee, makes various charges against American diplomats, including speculation in the blackmarket and attempting to foment a war against Russia.

The American embassy has only one copy of the book and has been unable to get more. It is not known when more copies will be available.

The book caused a considerable stir in the foreign colony in Moscow.

GM Slashes Wages, Price of All Cars

Detroit, Feb. 15 — (AP)—General Motors cut all its passenger car prices today as it prepared to place in effect a cost of living wage reduction for 341,000 employees.

The world's largest operating corporation, reducing prices of its cars for the first time since the war's end, said it meant to pass on its wage savings to car buyers.

The price reductions, on Chevrolet trucks as well as GM's passenger cars, will run from $10 to $40, President C. E. Wilson said.

GM said the price cuts were effective immediately.

Its action came almost simultaneously with the government's announcement of a drop in the cost of living, resulting in a two cents hourly wage reduction for GM's 273,000 production workers.

Effective on March 1 to May 1, it is the first wage slash under the GM's novel contract with the CIO United Auto Workers.

GM has put the same policy in effect for its 68,000 salaried workers. They will take a $10 cut in the $40 lump sum cost of living allowance which has been paid them quarterly.

Wilson said the price reductions were intended to pass along to consumers the savings resulting from both the downward adjustment of wage and salary payments and the lowered cost of certain material items.

The union had accepted the wage cut as an "indication of failing prices and proposed that GM follow through by cutting its car prices."

The wage cut temporarily will bring earnings of GM production workers down to about one cent an hour below the industry-wide average of close to $1.65 an hour.

However, under the adjustment formula they will receive an automatic increase of three cents an hour in their base rates on May 25. This increase, described in the contract as an "improvement factor," is made a part of the base rate and does not fluctuate with the quarterly cost-of-living adjustments.

The cut in GM worker wages has been anticipated for several weeks. The price reduction was not.

It brought no immediate comment from other leading car companies.

Soon after the GM announcement, its Chevrolet division reported, briefly, that a $10 reduction would become effective today on all its passenger cars and trucks.

Buick announced its reductions will range from $16 to $30.

Pontiac's $15 off on all models.

Oldsmobile: $15 off on the "76" series and $20 off on the "88" and "98" series.

Cadillac: $25 off on the "61" and "62" series, $30 off on the "60 special," and $40 off on the series "75."

Slavs Say Two Clergymen Plead Guilty

Sofia, Feb. 25 — (UP)—Two of 15 priestly clergymen, accused of treason, black marketing and spying for the United States and Great Britain pleaded guilty today when they testified in district court on the first day of the mass trial.

Leading the parade of defendants before the three-man court were Nikola Naumov, president of the supreme council of the United Evangelical churches of Bulgaria and secretary to the Baptist church union board; and Yanko Nikolov (Ivanov), Methodist church supervisor. They admitted their guilt as co-conspirators.

Weeping copiously at times in the more than three hours he testified, Naumov said he would advise all wavering to go to the state security people for their re-education.

He said the World Council of Churches, from whom he and his co-defendants allegedly received financial backing for their alleged spying was "the last U. S. organization aiming to unite all churches in the struggle against communism."

His voice cracking time after time and tears streaming down his face, Naumov, 49, said he had not been mistreated, beaten or "burned" since his arrest last December. He was treated "very well" by the state security section of the militia, he added.

He was lavish in his praise of the Bulgarian state. Never in its history has it had so much religious freedom, he said.

"Brothers who have passed Christians and Communists have each other, he said, "but they will end each other some day."

Naumov admitted that from 1944 on he got economic, political and financial information and delivered it to the "foreign intelligence service" which the government charges was headed by Americans in Bulgaria.

Through his statements at morning and afternoon court sessions and a subsequent half-hour examination he repeated in detail each of the charges contained in a "yellow book" issued by the government on the case.

Financial magnates were behind the plot, he said.

He named "Rockefeller," Baptist and "Ford" as a Methodist.

Slavs Say Two Clergymen Plead Guilty

Washington, Feb. 25 — (AP)—General Motors corporation today cut prices and wages as the cost of living index dropped for the fourth straight month.

The price cuts ranged from $10 to $40 on Chevrolet passenger automobiles and Chevrolet trucks.

The wages, tied to the cost of living index, were reduced two cents an hour for 273,000 production workers. The firm's $10,000 salary index cost a total $10 cut in quarterly living allowances.

GM, the nation's biggest auto maker, attributed the price cuts, partly to the pay reductions and partly to lower costs of certain materials.

The wage reduction was estimated to save $9,000,000 to $10,000,000 annually in the production workers' payroll.

These savings, GM said, are being passed along immediately to the consumer. It was GM's first price cut since the war.

The individual reductions on Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac will be announced later. The company also indicated that price cuts will be made later by the GMC truck and coach division.

It also was the first wage slash for GM workers under the corporation's unusual two year contract with the CIO United Auto Workers. The workers are pegged to the ups and downs of the government's cost of living index. The contract still has more than a year to run.

In advance of GM's announcement, the auto union called for an immediate cut in prices. It said the index drop is "an indication that prices are on the way down."

The index showed today that from Dec. 15 to Jan. 15 the retail prices of goods and services purchased by moderate-income city families declined 0.3 per cent.

The latest index (Jan. 15) was still 1.2 per cent higher than a year ago, 28.2 per cent over June 1946 when major price controls were abolished and 73.3 per cent above the August 1939 level. The index has now dropped 2.1 per cent below the record, which was in August and September of 1948.

The December-January reduction was attributed more to lower prices for apparel and house furnishings rather than lower food prices. However, drops were recorded on meats, eggs, fats and oils and dairy products.

Youth Seized in Connection With Murder

New Orleans, Feb. 26. —(UP)—Police said today that a youth in a striped sweater, dragged from under a step in the French quarter, had admitted he lived in a Richmond, Va., hotel where a multi-millionaire was savagely murdered in a New Orleans hotel Tuesday.

The youth, police admitted, had told several stories since his arrest. That was one of them. Detectives also questioned a middle-aged, heavy-set man who was trying to leave town on a train when he was picked up.

The youth, a caddy is Edwin L. Morris, 26, of Richmond, Va. He was wearing a maroon, brown and yellow-striped sweater, but police declined to say at once whether he is the elusive "sweater boy" they have been hunting. The middle-aged man was taken from a Southern railway train. Police did not book him, although he fitted the description of a man seen drinking with Mahoney less than three hours before a murderer broke his neck and tried to beat his brains out early Tuesday. The man said he used to be a Hollywood stunt man, but now lives in New York. He denied he had ever seen the 55-year-old Mahoney. He sat around headquarters, jovially talking to detectives and newspapermen.

The two prime suspects in the case were a youth wearing a green sweater with yellow stripes and a middle-aged man. The youth was seen at Mahoney's door at 12:30 a. m. Tuesday, about the time he is believed to have been killed.

To Appear at Methodist Church Sunday

Bobby Del Rio

Three widely known personalities will appear here, for one night only at the First Methodist Church, on Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, February 27.

Pat B. Withrow, Jr., noted speaker, humorist and song leader, will head the unit and present a full hour of music, dramatic experiences, and entertainment. Mr. Withrow will lead you from laughter to tears, from sober reflection into a stimulating spiritual experience.

The program will also feature the talents of Mildred Young, outstanding ing radio, opera, and concert singer; and Bobby Del Rio, noted accordionist. Miss Young, with her lovely voice and charming personality endeared herself to our servicemen overseas during the war in Brazil, Africa, Egypt and India. Mr. Del Rio devoted over four and one-half years to a similar work, and his experiences as an entertainer at the battle fronts were so vivid that they were dramatized over the "Cavalcade of America" program over the NBC network. His courageous work also earned him a citation for meritorious service from Washington.

These artists are appearing here in the interests of Veterans Hospital Programs, a non-profit organization devoted to taking inspiration, at entertainment into the veterans hospitals, and presenting bedside radios to the wounded men. The entire work is carried on in the name of, and on behalf of, the Protestant Churches of America.

The variety and inspiration of this unusual program has made it the outstanding event of the season in hundreds of communities where these artists have been enthusiastically received.

You are cordially invited to attend and to meet these New York radio stars in person. Admission is

DOROTHY DIX Frankness Doesn't Pay

Dear Miss Dix: My husband feels that he is being neglected and that I am a cold wife. The reason is that I love him and cannot lie to him or to anyone. A husband has to deserve love and affection, and honor and respect are back of it. So until my husband has earned these he will not get those words from me.

I feel that a husband must deserve praise before he expects it from his wife. I believe truth should always prevail.

Answer: Of course, theoretically, husbands and wives should be perfectly frank in their dealings with each other and tell each other just what they think, but I doubt extremely if many marriages could stand the strain of absolute truthfulness. Most of us are poor creatures who are starving for a little praise and who crave to have our mates tell us how beautiful and how useful we are and how much they love us, and we don't look a gift horse in the mouth very closely.

Very few people are conceited enough to really believe that their husbands and wives put them on a pedestal and think they are married to pin-feathered angels. They know better than that. No man whose wife is fat and 40 and gray-headed thinks she would take a prize in a beauty show, but he makes her happy by telling her how good-looking she is. No woman has a husband who is pompous and fussy and dictatorial but who sees him as just exactly the little balloon he is; yet he purrs under her hand when she strokes his fur the right way. It takes a certain amount of soft soap to keep any marriage a going concern.

Few Thick Skins This brings up the question of how much frank husbands and wives should be with each other. The literal-minded say that we should speak the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; but few of us have skins thick enough to stand it. None of us want to be told of our faults and blemishes and reminded of our mistakes and, in reality, about the only time we are so pin-pricked is when we don't want to say.

The truth of the matter is that truth is strong medicine, to be handled with discretion. Sometimes a little pink lie leans to virtue's side. A little tact, and a little praise, a little blindness—is there not more virtue in these than dragging out our skeletons and rattling their bones?

Dear Dorothy Dix: My brother, who is 26, is desperately in love with a sweet college girl who is equally in love with him, but she refuses to marry him because she is afraid of marriage. The girl's mother was a very poor wife, made her husband desperately unhappy and he finally divorced her, and that makes the girl fear that if she married my brother she would ruin his life. She loves him so much that she would rather sacrifice her own happiness than run the risk of wrecking his life.

Do you think she is right?

Answer: No, she is absolutely wrong. She has brooded over her father's unhappy marriage until she has gotten morbid and lost her perspective. Because a girl's mother was a poor wife is no proof that she will be one. On the contrary, the chances are that she will make all the greater effort to be a good one.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are two very troubled girls, ages 15 and 16 and we are very much in love.

Put Morris denied he knew anything about the murder, although he said he had known Mahoney eight years ago. He said he had not seen him since.

"Just because I knew him eight years ago and he brought me some beers, I don't see why I should be picked up," Morris said.

There was a small bruise under his left eye. He was asked where he got it.

"To tell you the truth, I don't know," he said. "I have been drunk for several days."

Morris was arrested in the 900 block of Chartres and when questioned stated that he had known the murdered male, James Mahoney, and also stated he had lived in a hotel with him in Richmond.

"This subject has been in town a short time. He is without funds and has no work."

Hope Teams Eliminated in Tourney Play

Two Hope basketball teams bit the dust in district tournament play—the Junior boys ousted 33 to 13 by Saratoga this morning at Prescott and the Senior Girls were eliminated last night at Mineral Springs.

While the Bobcats were taking a 35 to 15 decision from Guernsey yesterday the Hope Senior Girls team had a miserable time at the hands of Willisville who racked up a 35 to 10 score. The Junior boys won two and lost one in tourney play.

Junior Tournament scores: Ar-kadelphia 38—Amity 12; Blevins 19—Mineral Springs 13; Saratoga 33—Spring Hill 24; DeQueen 48—Delight 18; Stamps 42; Bedeaw 28; Teyarkana took 2-0 forfeit from Bradley; North Heights 30 and Patmos 27.

Senior Girls Tournament; Willisville 29—Nashville 23; Ashdown 41—Fureman 35; Bright Star 32—Center Point 22; North Heights 40—Murfreesboro 31; Diercks 47—Bedeaw 27; Stamps 25—Bradley 21; Pooke 31—Gillham 30; Spring Hill 43—Gurdon 34; Delight 29—Mineral Springs 33; Willisville 35—Hope 16.

Hornbuckle's Dog Tax Bill Is Defeated

Little Rock, Feb. 24. —(AP)—Rep. Jack Hornbuckle's widely publicized dog tax bill was defeated by the Arkansas house yesterday.

As originally introduced, the Baxter county legislator's proposal would have made every Arkansan a dog catcher. However, the section authorizing any citizen to kill any untaxed dog on sight and collect a bounty for doing so, was amended out before the bill was called up yesterday.

In its final form, it would have levied a tax of $1 on every dog not licensed by the state game and fish commission or a municipality, or kept in a kennel. Sheriffs would have collected the tax and would have been required to impound untaxed animals, and if they were unclaimed, kill them "in a humane manner."

EASY WAY Detroit, Feb. 25. —(AP)—Edward J. Gwozdz, asking a favor of probate court, took a practical point of view.

His petition that his name be changed to "Nail" was granted when he explained that was the literal translation from the Polish and a simple way out.

The use of barley-corns (grains of barley) in measurement still survives in shoe numbers, which run by thirds of an inch or "barley-corns."

Blevins Host to Hope Team Tonight

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler
Copyright, 1947
By King Features Syndicate.

The people of the United States have lived under partial fascism long enough now to have made up their minds whether we like it or whether we want to go back to the republican system defined in our constitution or go on to real, total fascism. I think most Americans like it. Those of us who don't like it are afraid to go back to our old constitutional form of government because we are now "geared" to fascism and might strip our gears if we tried to mesh into the constitution again. We are "geared" to a system of forms and panels and boards, of hearings, appeals and decrees that would be just insanity to some wise, honest American who had died, say, 40 years ago.

As a fair sample, I have here a page clipped from the New York Journal-American of Jan. 12, a whole page of income-tax questions and answers. The instructions to a typical citizen making $4,787 a year, who has a wife and two dependent children. A recent court decision held that this is a "low-income" family, eligible for public or charity housing.

Here is one question: "What is the major requirement if I use Form 1040-A?" Here is another: "If my wife itemizes her deductions on Form 1040 in a separate return, may I use Form 1040-A?"

Those who like fascism most, as far as we have gone with our sampling, would have the word "Fascist" at anyone who proposed that we drop the pretense and frankly salute and embrace fascism. Those would be the New Dealers and the present-day, big-city eastern "progressives" of the democratic host and all the union bosses. Huey Long is said to have predicted that when fascism came to the United States it would be called "anti-fascism." He certainly called it that.

The supreme court recently upheld the authority of the federal government to continue to control rents on the ground that certain extraordinary wartime powers were still in legal force because we were still at war. Those powers were pure fascism and we adopted them so that we could freely fight a war against fascism. Actually, the constitution is flouted right there because it does not authorize any such extraordinary powers for the federal government at any time in any real or fictitious emergency.

Yet we got so used to these extraordinary powers that I was the only one who really batted an eye when Roosevelt published articles threatening to draft all of us, women as well as men, for forced labor at any kind of job wherever breaking up families and exposing wives and daughters to cruelty and degradation, all under a pretext of "emergency" and "democracy." I was the only one who raised shrill cries of alarm, but, raving and ranting, I was completely ignored. I raised no response. So I say our people are accustomed to fascism, whether we recognize it as fascism or not. I say we will go much further before we turn back, if we ever do turn back. I doubt that we will.

The war stopped more than three years ago, but we still can't un-gear ourselves because the Russians won't let us end the war and we don't dare abandon the emergency powers as long as Russia threatens us with another war. We certainly are in a mess.

What Governor Tom Dewey really was trying to say in his Lincoln day speech in Washington was that, dammit, we have been unable to find me in our politics. I doubt if 1933 who had the ability and the strength of character to manage the nation within the text and spirit of the constitution. He knows that as the result of the emergency measures the people have completely lost the habit of living without government help or assurance that the government will be there to help in case of inconvenience, to say nothing of disaster.

Being president isn't such a hard job if you can make your own rules and print your own money day by day. But it takes a great man to turn in a successful term as president of the United States within the limitations of the constitution. Maybe it is impossible. Things have changed since it was written. Dewey said the overwhelming majority of the people believe that government today has to be more than a cold and impartial umpire.

Short Income Tax Form Much Easier

(Editor's note: This is the fourth of 12 stories on who has to do what about his 1948 income tax return, for the deadline is March 15.)
By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Feb. 24 — (AP)—Using the 1040 shortform for your 1948 income tax return is easier than using the 1040 long form.

Both are part of Form 1040. It's called the short form when it can be used without figuring. You find your tax in the table on Page 4.

It's called the longform when you figure your own tax according to a formula on Page 3.

Not everyone can use the shortform—only those with under $5,000 income. But anyone, under or over $5,000, can use the longform. And those with $5,000 or more have to use it. They have no choice.

The short-form mainly is for those under $5,000 people, like land lords or others from whose 1948 income little or no tax was with held.

(Most of the under-$5,000 people who had full tax withheld from their pay will use the simpler form 1040A, explained in a previous story.)

Even though the short-form is easier than the longform, some people may save money by using the long-form. For example: In getting deductions.

Anyone using the short-form automatically gets a 10 per cent deduction for deductible expenses and hospital bills, charity, taxes, and so forth.

You don't have to itemize them, or even claim the 10 per cent. It's already allowed for in the tax table you use with the shortform. But you'll save money by using the long-form, if your deductible expenses were actually more than 10 per cent.

In that case you'll have to figure your own tax and itemize your deductions, to prove them, but you can claim a refund for the money you actually saved.

To save money, husbands and wives should think carefully about the 1040 short-form: When to use it, how to use it, whether to use it.

If their combined income was under $5,000, husbands and wives can file jointly on the shortform. Some will save money by doing it. That's because of the new law that permits couples to "split" their income. As though each claimed half, and thus get a lower tax. Example:

Jones had $4,950 income, his wife, none. Jones, like everyone else, filing a return, gets an exemption for himself and another for his wife. If she had no income, now see what happens if Jones files separately (meaning, his wife does nothing). Look at the bottom of the tax table, on Page 4, where it shows $4,950. Then look across to the tax on a person who files separately but has two exemptions. The tax is $579.

Now see what happens if Jones and his wife file jointly. Look at the bottom of the tax table, on Page 4, where it shows $4,950. Then look across to the tax on a person who files jointly, opposite an income of $4,950—the tax is only $54.

So the Joneses saved $35 by filing jointly. But filing jointly won't save for married couples in all cases. You can see why by looking at the tax table again.

Where there's only one income for a couple, say the husband's, if they can't lose by filing jointly. If they have two incomes, but the total is under $5,000, they should check the tax table carefully to see whether they'd save by filing separately or jointly.

And in their deductible expenses run more than the 10 per cent allowed in the tax table, they should file their return on the 1040 long form, in that case they'll have to itemize their deductions, but can claim them fully.

Here's another point for under-$5,000 couples: If one partner wants to use the longform and use the long-form, too, and itemize. That other partner can't use the shortform.

Where husband and wife have a combined income of $5,000 or more under $5,000, they can't file jointly on the short-form.

They can file separately on the shortform, because the income of each is under $5,000, or jointly on the longform. Example: Jones has

K-F Adds New Type Sports Sedan To '49 Line

IT LOOKS JUST LIKE a convertible, but the Kaiser "Virginia"—newest Kaiser-Frazer model—actually has an all-steel safety top under its padded, satin covering of nylon. The sports sedan features exceptional driver vision front and rear, plus the 112-hp. engine and other mechanical features of the K-F '49 models.

Willow Run, Mich.—The development of a nylon-over-steel-top—an exclusive feature of the new Kaiser Virginia—provided an opportunity for Kaiser-Frazer to offer a sports sedan in exterior as well as interior fabrics.

The satiny vinyl-nylon roof material was adopted by textile engineers from the garment industry, where it has been widely used for trench coats, "storm wear" and the Virginia in a variety of colors which harmonize with body finishes as well as interior upholstery.

The new automotive fabric is applied over padding and a rakish steel top which is stamped to duplicate the roofline of convertible models.

The fixed steel top also permits use of the fine interior fabrics—practically any in custom sedans. The Virginia includes the exclusive "furniture" cloth created especially for the 1949 Kaiser Deluxe sedans.

Examples of Virginia exterior color styling include a grass green body with a turquoise top, and an Italian ceramic body with a black top. Interior fabrics harmonize with each exterior combination.

The blending of sports and luxury features in the Virginia also is pointed up by such innovations as level interior lighting, special chrome wheel covers, and optional automatic window controls.

POP Goes the QUEEN

THE STORY: John Henry and Conover, vacationing at a swan resort in the California desert, are deeply involved in a murder. Trying to extricate themselves, Sin is nearly kidnapped by Gayner and Vernon, two employees of Mr. Barselou, who owns the resort. John Henry is dragged at a gambling ranch where he is kept by Faye Jordan, a mysterious girl. When the Conovers are brought together again by Mr. Trim, who is supervising the Conover's expensive vacation, John Henry decides to go home. John Henry finds his car keys were taken when he was searched at the gambling ranch. Then they spy Gayner and Vernon hunting for them. They find Faye Jordan's car with keys in the ignition and escape in it.

The couple swerved to the right, cut around the parked cars and hurried without a pause onto Conover's back seat. The car sped forward. John Henry spun the car left and gunned off down the road toward Highway 99 and escape from Azure.

"Sin squirmed around for a last look at the hotel. 'Johnny!' she squealed.

"Hurt yourself?"

"The Mercury raced recklessly onto Highway 99. John Henry flicked his eyes at the rearview mirror and swore definitively. A big black Buick sedan danced in the polished surface. It looked like Vernon behind the wheel. Sin studied her husband's frown. "What can we do now?"

"Let me think a minute," John Henry begged. He kept the accelerator flat against the floor mat. The shivering needle of the speedometer rocked past the black 60, heading for 70 with no hesitation.

John Henry's charcoal face went suddenly incandescent. "The ranch! They can't do anything to us in a crowd."

"But, Johnny, that's where—"

"They got her car. And Lieutenant Lay's at the ranch, isn't he? It's the safest place in the world right now."

John Henry, keeping watch in the rearview mirror, lost sight of the big black car for moments at a time as they raced up and down the rolling hillsides. The highway now curved slightly to the south. They were nearly to the dirt road which led to the Bar C Ranch. John Henry strained his eyes for the juncture where the two roads met. He fought it, rushing at them at seventy miles an hour.

Vernon and the Buick were hidden behind a rise of ground. He jammed on the brakes, easy at first, but then the car began to shudder in protest as the convertible clocked its headlong rush and slowed to a halt.

John Henry braked, gassed and spun the wheel simultaneously. The Mercury bounced off Highway 99 onto the dirt road. It skidded in the soft sand, swayed sickeningly for a moment, then righted itself proudly to shoot off at right angles

$3,000 income, his wife, $4,000. Remember: You may think you're filing a short-form jointly, but the government won't allow it unless husband and wife both sign it. Repeat: Both must sign it.

You can turn in a joint return even though your wife or husband died in 1948, no matter how early in 1948.

In such cases, the survivor more fully explains on the return that the husband or wife died during the taxable year.

And a husband and wife can file a joint return on their combined income for the whole year, even though they got married on the last day of 1948.

But — people divorced in 1948 can't file a joint return.
